Introducing Hempstead EDC: Hempstead Goes Live With New Economic Development Website

July 10, 2023 — The City of Hempstead, Texas is excited to announce the launch of the Hempstead Economic Development Corporation's (HEDC) economic development microsite, created in partnership with Global Site Location Industries (GSLI). The website aims to capture the attention of companies seeking expansion or relocation opportunities, providing them with essential information to make informed decisions about establishing a presence in the thriving community of Hempstead.

The HEDC's primary objective is to foster economic growth, attract investment, and create job opportunities for the residents of Hempstead. Recognizing the importance of a strong digital presence in today's business landscape, the HEDC website has been developed as a user-friendly platform that showcases the unique advantages and opportunities the city offers to potential businesses.

“We understand the importance of bringing our website up to the standards of the new digital age. This website will serve as the bridge between Hempstead and companies wanting to locate within our vibrant community. GSLI did an amazing job of executing our vision,” commented Mayor Erica Gillum.

Key features of the new website include:

- Comprehensive Economic Data: The website provides detailed economic data and demographic information to give businesses a clear understanding of Hempstead's economic landscape. This data equips decision-makers with the necessary tools to assess the viability of expanding or relocating their operations to Hempstead.
- Site Selection Assistance: Hempstead boasts a variety of prime locations for businesses across various sectors. The HEDC website showcases available properties and sites for companies to consider for their next locations.
- Resource Links: Hempstead understands the significance of attractive business incentives and support programs. The website provides direct links to important resources when considering a location within Hempstead. This commitment to fostering business growth demonstrates Hempstead's dedication to creating a favorable business environment.

- News and Information: The HEDC website highlights Hempstead's what's happening in Hempstead through its monthly newsletter. The newsletter can help keep you in the know of what going on in Hempstead.
- Community Quality of Life: Hempstead is more than just an excellent place for business; it is also a vibrant community with a high quality of life. The website features information on local amenities, recreational opportunities, housing options, schools, and cultural attractions. This ensures that businesses considering Hempstead can confidently promote their employees' well-being and work-life balance.
